

The night before Halloween, Susie snuck out. Her dad was worried and her mom was scared. Susie went out of the house and went to the haunted theater. The monster came out of hiding. The monster froze her. Her mom and dad came and found her frozen. Her mom was like “oh no what do we do?” Susie's mom called the police. Twenty minutes later the police came... The police tried to unfreeze her, but it didn't work. The police figured out that it was black magic. They got a wizard to help, but the wizard said he didn't know black magic, but he was lying to them and they didn't know. They didn't know what to do. When they tried to find the monster, the monster was at the haunted theater. It was her sister, Hilda. Hilda was mad at Susie because she felt like Susie was the favorite child. The parents told her that is not true. Susie is younger than you, so she needs more care right now. The police put Hilda in handcuffs. Susie's sister had to tell the police the cure. Susie got unfrozen and she had a melt down before they left the haunted theater. After that, Susie and her family went home and had dinner. They decided to just call it a crazy Halloween night and never spoke of it again.
