

The murray theater spooky story haunted tales!

One night a group of girls were on facetime calling and they wanted to do theater together, there was an audition for Frozen they were all so excited! And were talking about what their audition songs were. They all settled on doing a tangled song. They would do different parts, they were all excited so they practiced their audition song and the next day they went to the theater and were waiting for their turn. “Emma I’m so scared that if I mess up that would be so embarrassing,” said Jezabelle.

Jezabelle said “don’t worry you won’t mess up you have a really easy part and plus I think you were the one who practiced the most you kept going and going.” Isabelle said “And if you don’t pay any attention to them it will be really easy promise. I have experience.” Emma said “just because I have an easy part doesn’t mean that I won’t mess up and you guys have done this before I haven’t.” Jezabelle said “it’s ok just take a deep breath in you got this.” The audition lady said “next Jezabelle are you ready Emma.” Emma said “ready then I will ever be they sing their song and walk off stage.”

“Omg did we do good?” Emma asked Jezabelle and Isabelle said “omg we did amazing!” “They all say they want to grab food, they all laugh and say yes! At burger king” “we did amazing” said Isabelle “I really hope I get Anna! “I hope I get olaf!” said Jezabelle “I hope I get Elsa!” said Emma. Jezabelle and Isabelle laugh, “there is no way plus this is your first time you would probably get like stage fright." "Well I think I can do it" said Emma. "Ya I have never got a main part and I have done this for 3 years there is no way a newbie will get a main part if your lucky if you even get ensemble you might get stage crew" laughed Isabelle.

"Hey thats rude I thought you guys would be happy for me but you just being mean this was supposed to be fun but I dont think fun I can have fun with people that just pull me down as she sits up and leaves the food restaurant and yells watch me get elsa and you get ensemble." Isabelle and Jezabelle start to laugh and mock her as she leaves.

At home in Emma's house I thought they were my friends but they are just back stabbers and i know that i can get elsa the next day when the auditions were up as Emma was scanning the list she goes to her name and got elsa she was so excited and was jumping around as for jezabelle and isabelle they got ensemble i knew i could do it Emma thinks to her self and when jezabelle and isabelle looked at their names they got so mad that they punched a wall and they went to Emma and started to scream at her saying that she cheated and Emma was trying to defend herself.

When the lights to flicker and then they completely turn off everyone was to stunned that they had to use there phone flash lights, the principal tells everyone to go home and that school was canceled next day at the theater the lights start to flicker nonstop and its hard to practice but the show was 1 month away and they couldn't waste anytime because they already delayed the show 2 times and they couldn't afford to do it again when Emma needed a break she went in the hall way and she saw a 10 foot man standing in the hall she thought it was a prop till it started to move towards her, she ran into the gym and she saw nothing no one was there and the lights went completely out she was surrounded by darkness she saw the exit sign and ran for it. When she opened the door there was nothing no floor no walls nothing as slender man came towards her someone was yelling call 911 she didn't know what to do so she just ran she woke up on the hallway floor and everyone was surrounding her she didn't know what happened so she asked the people around her, "Emma what happened? You had a seizure, wait what? I was just getting water. How did this happen?

When everyone is talking Jenna started to scream so loud that everyone jumped they went to look for jenna when one student saw Jenna she had a ear screeching scream everyone ran to the sound and there was guts everywhere on the lockers and blood everywhere everyone was terrified but then jenna started to float in mid air everyone was so scared, and then her bones started to break, then her jaw broke and she fell to the ground and Emma called 911, After the police came everyone was so scared that no one slept that night.

The next day they went back to the play and Emma was having these weird theories/ visions she thought nothing of because it was probably just about yesterday, that practice went well until she got home. When she got home she went into her room, but when Emma came in there was Jenna dead on her bed guts everywhere she started screaming but she stopped because it was just her imagining things! And got a cup of water she came back to her room and Jenna was gone.

(5 weeks later) At the show, Emma said “are we ready guys?” Everyone on the show said “oh ya we are.” During the show Emma sings let it go but as she is singing she starts to float up in the air. Everyone is in shock including Emma. Everyone thought that it was part of the show until her bones started to break, first her arms, and then her legs, then her jaw. She fell on the floor with blood spilling everywhere, and everyone is gasping, everyone is terrified. Then the screen behind her shows Slender Man and he is controlling everyone and he breaks everyone's bones and kills them in the entire auditorium and the only one that survived was the teacher because she was Slender Man waiting to strike, waiting to feast, finally she ate till she was full.

